

Human Sciences Encounters in Phnom-Penh Researcher Profil

Roderic Broadhurst

Roderic Broadhurst is a Professor of Criminology at the Department of Sociology, Australian National University. He is an Associate Fellow of the Australian Institute of Criminology. Apart from work on crime victim surveys, his current research includes crime and violence in Cambodia, homicide, organised crime in China, and crime in cyberspace.